Open all | Close all Fix issues when you sign in I can't sign in to Classroom You might be trying to sign in to Classroom with the wrong account. Check that you're using the email account connected to Classroom. You sign in to Classroom with one of these accounts: School account—Also known as a Google Workspace for Education account, this account is set up by an accredited school. It looks like "yourname@yourschool.edu." Personal Google Account—This is set up by you, or your parent or guardian. Typically, you use a personal Google Account outside of a school setting, such as a homeschool. It looks like you@example.com. Google Workspace account—This is set up by your organization's administrator. It looks like "you@yourcompany.com." You must have an active Internet connection to sign in to your account. If you can't sign in with the correct email account and password, maybe your school's administrator doesn't automatically activate Classroom for new students and users. For more assistance, contact your teacher. I forgot my password If your school uses Google Workspace for Education—Ask your teacher to contact the admin to reset your password.
